

LOCAL MATTERS.

Weather Probabilities, January 7, 1880.—For the Middle States, clearing, colder weather, with easterly winds and rising barometer.

THE ALEXANDRIA AND WASHINGTON RAILROAD CASE.—In this case which was argued on yesterday, before the United States Circuit Court, now sitting here, the object of the bill was to enforce against the Alexandria and Washington Railroad Company, judgments to the amount of some $40,000, rendered anterior to the war. The defense on the part of the Company was, that these judgments had been satisfied and discharged. In 1862, all the property and works of this Company were sold under one of its deeds of trust, and Alexander Hay became the purchaser. On the basis of this purchase, he organized what was known as the Washington, Alexandria and Georgetown Railroad Company. This new Company immediately took possession of the road, and operated it with great profit for six or eight years. At length, however, the old Company instituted suit to recover back its property, and to compel the new Company to receive and pay over the revenues it had received during the period of occupation. After a long litigation, the old Company was successful. The court decreed restitution of its property, and that the new Company should account for and pay over the revenues received by it. Meanwhile, as was maintained by the counsel for the defense in this case, the judgments in question had come into the ownership and under the control of the Washington, Alexandria and Georgetown Railroad Company, though originally held by Hay. They had been placed at the disposal of the new company, and were to be used especially to the benefit of himself, his associates and associates, as stockholders in that company. Such ownership and control, it was maintained, had been at all times realized and voluntarily assented to by Hay, and had been understood by all concerned. When the debt of the old company came to be executed, the road was surrendered, pursuant to it. In the settlement of the revenues account, however, the new company claimed to set off against its liability various items which it held against the old company, among them the judgments aforesaid. The validity of these judgments was recognized by the old company, as was also the equity of the new company to have them set off against its liability for damages, and they were accordingly settled in that manner, the two companies to meet each other, and thereupon entering a default and release that result. The pretension on the part of Mr. Hay was, that the judgments were placed at his disposal and control, and that he was entitled to set them off against the liability of the new company. The case was argued by Gen. H. H. Wells, for the plaintiff, and by Mr. H. Ferguson, for the defendant.

FALLING IN OF THE ICE HOUSE FLOOR AT PORTER'S BREWERY.—This morning about eleven o'clock an unexpected accident occurred at the extensive brewing establishment owned and operated by Mr. Robert Porter, located in the northwestern section of the city, which came near resulting in the death of a number of colored men. The foundation of one of the large iron pillars supporting the west wing of the establishment, on St. Andrew street, gave way, and the floor of the ice house fell in, carrying with it the floor of the beer room below, and forcing out a portion of the heavy brick wall. The ice house, in the third story of the building, had been recently filled, but the force of the falling mass was not great, and to be averted the matter, a force of 11 colored men were sent into the ice house to clear away the ice. They were at work at the time the floor fell in, and immediately heard the falling of the floor of the beer room in time to escape by jumping out of the window to the ground, a number of men being killed. All of them escaped without any injury whatever. The foundation upon which the pillar stood was considered of a most substantial character. It consisted of a concrete foundation, and was located in the third story of the building, and was supported by a heavy brick wall. The beer room and cellar were filled with large beer casks, many of which were totally destroyed. The extent of the damage can not be ascertained until the debris is cleared away, but it is thought that the loss will be about $3,000.

ANOTHER COLD SPELL ANTICIPATED.—Although the weather is just now comparatively warm, and we are having something of the "January thaw," the indications, according to the New England Herald, are that a change is coming. The temperature at Washington, north of Fort Benton, in the far Northwest, was reported yesterday at 45 degrees below zero—the lowest reading of the thermometer we have seen this winter on any part of the continent. The mercury had fallen yesterday to 25 degrees below zero, with a high pressure wave in Manitoba, and dropped 27 degrees in a less number of hours in Nebraska. The evolvence depression of Wednesday, then central near Omaha, with the barometer down to 29.52 inches, served to draw the Manitoban wave of intense cold toward the Upper Mississippi Valley, which its rimy mass is now gravitating. As the pressure in the east of the Mississippi Valley is now low, the cold wave will meet with no aerial barrier in its eastward advance, and if anything like the last wave in magnitude, after crossing the Mississippi, will be large enough to submerge the Atlantic slope. With this prospect for the early part of next week it is of importance that the streets should be cleared of ice and snow, and the gutters opened, that, while the moderate weather lasts, the accumulated snow may run off before the cold wave comes and solidifies it.

CANTATA.—We would say to all lovers of music, and to all who have enjoyable entertainments, keep yourselves in readiness for the grand dramatic cantata and comic opera, to be given at Armory Hall, January 12th and 14th, 1881. For this entertainment the finest musical talent of Alexandria and Washington has been secured. Those who have enjoyed some of the rehearsals say it promises to be the grandest affair of the kind ever given in Alexandria. This entertainment is for the benefit of the Alexandria Light Infantry; so we beg all the friends of these brave soldiers boys to come and help them and at the same time be more than compensated by the charming evening that will be offered for their enjoyment.

Marbury, 2 quarters of beef; John Lilly, lot of potatoes; John Kirk, a lot of potatoes; Moses J. Waterman, 2 bushels of meal; Mr. Gilbert, a lot of turkeys; Samuel Peckham, a lot of turkeys. A large number of applicants, both white and colored, were supplied with bread and soup today. SENT ON TO COURT.—Two warrants having been issued against Elizabeth Babby, who keeps a house of entertainment near Fort Ragsden, in Jefferson District, Alexandria county—on charging her with selling liquor on Sunday, and the other with keeping a gaming table, she was before Justice F. M. Mills and Weston Green, the latter colored, at the old Court House yesterday, represented by Capt. F. L. Smith. The warrant for keeping a gaming table was quashed on the ground of irregularity, but the selling liquor on Sunday she was sent on to the grand jury of the County Court. A new warrant for keeping a gaming table was issued immediately after the trial yesterday against the accused, and the trial will take place tomorrow at one o'clock, at the same place.

U. S. COURTS.—The U. S. Circuit and District Courts, Judge R. W. Hughes, presiding, opened this morning at 10 o'clock.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

The week has been a very dull one in a business point of view, the inclement weather almost putting a complete stop to all outdoor occupations. The receipts of grain have been light and the market drooping. The prospects for any speedy activity are not encouraging, but let us hope for the best, as the who guides the storm do not all things wisely. Money matters are quiet, and with a limited demand for capital. In Baltimore the supply of money is abundant, the current rates being from 5 to 6 per cent. At New York 6 per cent is a full rate for call loans, and a good part of the business is done at 5 per cent. Time loans 4 to 6 per cent, and prime mercantile paper 5 to 6 per cent. U. S. bonds are firm but unchanged. The closing quotations in New York yesterday were 115 1/2 for registered and regular coupon, and 115 1/2 for small coupon bonds. Va. consols were weak and lower yesterday, opening at 7 1/2 and declining on light sales to 7 1/4, which was bid at the close, with 7 1/4 asked. The 10-40s were also dull and weak, $7,000 selling at 4 1/2. Consol coupons sold at 90, and the 10-40 coupons at 92. Railroad shares are quiet, without notable change. Investment bonds are inquired for, but are scarce, the few lots offering being held above buyers' views. Chesapeake and Ohio Canal bonds were stronger, closing with 79 1/2, 80 asked. Nothing doing in railroad shares but we quote Or & Alex 7 1/2; 9 1/2; 10 1/2; Or & Alex 6 1/2; 11 1/2; Or & Alex 6 1/2; 11 1/2; Or & Alex 6 1/2; 11 1/2.
